The part of the annual distributable profits that is the result of extraordinary (non-recurring) earnings may after one year of the occurrence of such extraordinary (non-recurring) earnings be distributed to the Shareholders, subject to conditions (i) and (ii) above.

For the purpose of this article “solvency ratio” is equal to the percentage of the balance total that the equity (including subordinated loans) accounts for.

5 Transfer of Shares
5.1 The Parties acknowledge that Investor’s willingness to invest in the Company on the terms and conditions of this agreement and the Investment Agreement is inextricably bound up with the need to cash in on its interest in the Company. Therefore, each of the Parties agrees towards the Company and Investor to give all co-operation that may reasonably be demanded – not jeopardizing any rights the Parties may have under this article – from such party to bring the Shares to be held by Investor [on the market or] a sale to a strategic or financial purchaser.

Sale of Shares

5.2 The Parties agree that any Shareholder which receives from a third party (i.e. a bona fide party not affiliated in whatever way to a shareholder of the Company and such party hereinafter an “Interested Purchaser”) a demonstrable offer at a plausible price for all or part of the Shares held by such Shareholder (such Shareholder hereinafter an “Offering Shareholder”), shall be obliged to give written notice of the receipt of such offer (the “Notice”), specifying the identity of the Interested Purchaser and the terms and conditions of the offer, to all Shareholders not being presented with such offer of the Interested Purchaser (such Shareholders hereinafter the “Other Shareholders” and each of them an “Other Shareholder”) in order to allow that, in such manner as is described in the next sub articles, either:

5.2.1 the Other Shareholders may buy out the Offering Shareholder (as further described in Article 5.3) or, in the absence of such buy out,

5.2.2 the Other Shareholders may sell their Shares along with the Shares to be sold by the Offering Shareholder to the same third party (as further described in Article 5.4).

Right of first refusal

5.3 Each of the Shareholders shall have the right (which right, in case more than one Shareholder should exercise such right shall be pro rata parte the aggregate nominal value of their mutual shareholdings in the Company) to give written notice to the Offering Shareholder within four weeks from the date of receipt of the Notice, that it purchases the Shares offered by the Offering Shareholder at the same price as offered by the Interested Purchaser and under such other conditions as may be deemed market conditions. For the purpose of this sub article, the Notice shall be deemed to constitute an offer to sell, which offer shall then be deemed accepted in the manner described in this sub article. Subsequently, the accepting Shareholder(s) shall be obliged to procure that the Shares offered by the Offering Shareholder shall be transferred to the accepting Shareholder(s) within four weeks after acceptance. To the extent that Shareholders should not exercise their rights under this sub article, each of them agrees to refrain from exercising any other rights such Other Shareholder may have under the Articles and to give all reasonable co-operation which the Offering Shareholder may need to effect the sale and transfer of shares to the Interested Purchaser or to those parties that do exercise rights under this sub article.

Tag along

5.4 The Offering Shareholder shall procure that either the Interested Purchaser or the Offering Shareholder shall, concurrently with the Notice, offer to the Other Shareholders to purchase all Shares at the same price per Share as offered by the Interested Purchaser to the Offering Shareholder, provided that the Offering Shareholder who wants to sell to the Interested Purchaser, holds at least 60% of the outstanding issues share capital of the Company either unilaterally or together with another Shareholder who has accepted the offer defined in the Notice.

Another Shareholder that wishes to exercise his rights under this sub article shall give written notice thereof to the Interested Purchaser or the Offering Shareholder within four weeks after receipt of the Notice. To the extent that a Shareholder shall not so have expressed its wish to exercise such right, such Shareholder shall be deemed to have waived such right.

If any Shareholder fails to notify the Offering Shareholder of its tag-along election pursuant to this sub article, then such Shareholders’ right of “tag-along-sale”, to the extent not exercised, shall lapse and the Offering Shareholder shall be free to transfer that number of offered Shares which he is entitled to transfer in accordance with sub article 5.4 above for a period of 30 days, but after such 30 days period, the restrictions of this article shall again apply.

5.5 The parties acknowledge and agree that the arrangements included in the provisions of this article are not contained in the Articles and are intended to apply in addition to those. These additional provisions have been expressly agreed and accepted by the parties in their mutual contractual relations as established through this agreement.

5.6 Each of the parties hereby agrees towards the other parties to act in accordance with the provisions of this article and to co-operate in the effectuation of any transaction in accordance with the provisions of this article. In particular, each of the parties agrees to waive its rights under the Articles to the extent such waiver is necessary to procure that the provisions of this article may be applied in such manner as described herein.

5.7 The Shareholders commit themselves towards each other not to establish a right of pledge or to otherwise encumber the Shares, nor to grant options on Shares held by them, nor to enter into contracts or to open discussions on negotiations with third parties with regard to the Shares, unless with the prior written consent of Investor.

6 Sale of control

Each Shareholder agrees that it, acting alone or together with any other Shareholder, will not sell Shares to any person (or group) if, as a result of that sale and any other transactions, such person (or group) would become the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of Shares representing one third or more of the total issued share capital of the Company, unless such person (or group) agrees to offer to purchase all outstanding Shares from all Shareholders at such same price and on the same terms.

7.2 In case Investor wishes to reorganize its shareholding in the Company, provided such reorganization will not lead to a change-of-control, the other Shareholders shall not withhold their consent to a proposed transfer of Shares to a group entity of Investor and agree to waive their pre-emptive rights in connection with such transfer, provided that such transfer is done in accordance with article 8 hereof. The foregoing shall in any event mean that any transfer of Shares by Investor to an affiliated party (for the purpose hereof defined as any (direct or indirect) Subsidiary or holding company of Investor and/or any fund managed by them or any of their (direct or indirect) Subsidiaries or holding companies) may be made without restriction as to price or otherwise, provided that such transfer is done in accordance with article 8 hereof. 8 Pre-emptive rights/ anti dilution

8.1 Each Shareholder shall have pre-emptive rights to purchase their pro rata share of all Shares that the Company may, from time to time, propose to sell and issue after the Closing Date. number of Shares issued and outstanding immediately prior to the issuance of the Shares.

8.2 If the Company proposes to issue any Shares, it shall give each Shareholder written notice of its intention, describing the Shares, the price and the terms and conditions upon which the Company proposes to issue the same. Each Shareholder shall have thirty (30) days from the receipt of such notice to agree to purchase up to its Proportionate Percentage of the Shares for the price and upon the terms and conditions specified in the notice by giving written notice to the Company and stating therein the quantity of Shares to be purchased. In such notice, the Shareholder may agree to purchase more than its Proportionate Percentage in the event of an under-subscription.

8.3 If Shares are issued to the Existing Shareholders the price per Share will amount to [______________].

9 Arm’s length

Each of the parties agrees and undertakes with each other that any agreement or other transaction, either directly or indirectly through an affiliate, with the Company or any subsidiary or affiliate of the Company shall at all times be on an arm’s length basis.
